AGENDA

MEETING CALLED TO ORDER @ 9:08a.m.

Absent: Jeff Johnson and Leslie Jones.

GREETINGS: Ernie LaPalm, Deputy Director, Labor and Industries introduced Governor Inslee and highlighted some of his accomplishments in apprenticeship.

Governor Inslee stated his view is every student in high school ought to have a vision for their career future and have a pathway to reach whatever their vision statement is. It is long past the time when we've got to stop telling our kids that "If you don't get a four-year degree, you're a failure in life". This has got to stop. He also announced he's dedicating $3.5 million, from the statewide federal Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act, to establish a state grant to build, strengthen, and expand the system of Registered Apprenticeships in Washington.

Sharon Stukalo accompanied Governor Inslee and told her life story of being a foster kid then joining the military right out of High School. After leaving the military, she was only able to find work as a security guard. Sharon spoke about attending the first Veterans Resource Fair and visiting the ANEW booth. She graduated from ANEW and immediately was accepted into the Puget Sound Electrical JATC. Thanks to pre-apprenticeships and apprenticeship I'm no longer just existing from day to day, I'm going above and beyond and I'm thriving.

This money will be focused on three areas: 40 percent expanding existing apprenticeship programs, 40 percent to expand apprenticeships in areas where it is currently not and 20 percent to develop and implement marketing campaigns around Registered Apprenticeship.
